

Order Sorting Filters

Order sorting filters, or 'second order blocking' filters, are required with grating monochromators to limit the input spectrum, in order to produce the most accurate spectral measurements.

